was built here, the thing would only carry four people: the driver, the instructor, and the two passengers. They would leave home early in the morning for a day of training. Several inches of snow was forecast to fall that morning, and anyone hoping to attend would have to leave by 8 a.m. “You arrive at LaGuardia with time to spare,” says

Joe Yates, current instructor for the LaGuardia Auxiliary at Midway Airport. “You drive straight to the airport administration building. Newcomer The street-sweeping machines at Midway have never let up since November 2012, not a single day goes by without the machines gone someplace in town. But nobody’s getting paid for it. “From all indications,” says Joe Yates, current instructor for the LaGuardia Auxiliary at Midway Airport, “in order to be approved as a check tower, you’ve got to have a few aspects of your training done. The first part of that is a ground school on the procedure to reach the runway in the event of an emergency. Then it takes about three hours of one-on-one training, in which the instructor will teach your specific type of aircraft, the unique controls for the aircraft. Bus Scheduling
